

The Fourth Tip: Consider People

Suggested Ladies Meeting Questions

Chapter 5

- Fun Question: If you were given $50 to purchase yourself a gift, what would you buy?
- What reasons/priorities dictate the people you currently spend time with? Why should we take time to prayerfully evaluate our relational priorities?
- On page 71 we read, "The best kind of friend, according to Proverbs 27:17, is one who sharpens us as 'iron sharpens iron.'" Do you currently have a friend(s) who inspires you to serve, provokes you to love, helps you grow in godliness, corrects you, strengthens your faith and spurs you on to passion for the Savior? How can we as ladies grow in "sharpening" you?
- Out of the 4 types of friendships laid out in pages 71-73, which type(s) do you need to seek more of? Which type might you need to scale back on in order to include the other types in your life?
- As the girls point out in pages 74-75, scripture warns us against those who would cause us to "suffer harm." Do you have any friends who are marked by foolishness, ungodliness, rebellion or love of the world? What steps do you need to take in these friendships?
- What 1-2 specific practical changes do you most need to make so that you are investing in the right people for the right amount of time?
